

When nature takes over, virtue has a tough time of it.

Ogden (to Harvey): I'd sooner be happy than President.

Harvey: The moment we left, she came down to the table.

What happened?

I got off the boat with the [xxx]

About the publicity?

I'm giving up politics.

Are you sure you're doing the right thing?

I'm sure I'm not doing the wrong thing.

And those who pretend to care
Can evacuate their hats and pull them down over their ears and eyes, because what they want and enjoy in the world is to swim in the sewer and mingle with the fecal matter.