

Notes on Business

Business-Love scene-Both characters are striving to be emotional. Both are sensing, [xxx] but not feeling the beauty of the moment. The girl is trying to express the beauty in the tragedy of her love for her lover. She is young and he is old. As they recline quietly in each other's embrace, the girl weeps but the man cannot bring himself to tears, although he would like to. Strain as he will, no tears come. Eventually he gets up, feigning emotion and hiding his face from the girl. Tears from her and stalks out of the room.