

Let me see now, we must make some excuse to Hudson, my valet. He knows you're here. Then Harvey will have to know that you're here and Clark also.

They could give up their rooms and sleep here, but that would hardly be convenient for you. There would be no place for you to hide when the stewards come to clean up in the morning. Here at least you can maneuver from one room to another without being seen.

Of course. Whatever's convenient for you.
